FROM THE ADJUTANT. GENERAL. A New Magazine Rifle Has Been Issued for

Experiments. Adjutant-General Charles J. Anderson has received a letter from Brigadier-General D. W. Flagler, chief of ordnance of the War Department, at Washington, ontaining the following: In accordance with the instructions of the Secretary of War, of the 17th instant, ollowing stores have been ordered issued to your address in com-1. lance with your requisition of March 16, 1894, under the law for arming and equipping the militia from the posts

From the Springfield Armory, Mass., the magazine rifle, model 1892, 220: from the Frankford Arsenal, Pa., 1,000 rifle ball cartridges, calibre 39, reloading, $30.
Total value, $50.

This magazine rifle has been ordered as a sample and after its arrival a number of tests will be made with the same. Its callbre is thirty-hundreths of an inch. and the rifle is very much like those used in other countries. The experiments the same are looked for with a great deal of interest.

While speaking on the subject to Lieutenant Paxton, of the United States Army, who has been detailed by the Government to instruct the Virginia volunteers, that gentleman said: "This cam rifia is constructed after the Krag-

Joergensen pattern. It is a bolt-action rifle with a magazine under and around the chamber containing five catridges, and it is supplied with a cut-off, which admits of either magazine or single loading fire. It is nominally a foreign (Danish) invention, but it has been very greatly changed by American Improvements and is therefore practically an American and is therefore practically an American

The calibre of the rifle is thirty-hun-"The calibre of the rifle is thirty-hundreths of an inch, and the builet used is a lead slug contained in a jacket of nickle, steel, or German silver. The black powder, which has heretofore been in use, does not possess sufficient velocity, and experiments have therefore been made with smokeless powder. Several different kinds of this powder have been tried, and the best foreign powders tested are the Wettern, made and used in Belgium, the Troisdorf powder, a German invention, and the B. N. F., used in France. Several varieties of American powders, however, have given better repowders, however, have given better re-sults, and the best qualities have been found in the Leonard powder, made near New York city, and the Peyton powder, which is manufactured in Cali-

"For a complete trial the Government some time ago purchased five thousand pounds each of the Leonard and Peyton powders, but both proved to be so nearly equal to each other that it could not be decided which one actually was

'The muzzle velocity of the bullet with the new rifle varies from 2,000 to 2,400 feet per second, as against a velocity of 1,300 feet per second with the old rifle 1.00 feet per second with the old fine and black powder. This increased velocity serves not only to increase the penetration and range, but also to flatten the projectory. At 500 yards range, with the calibre 45 and black powder, the bullet rises over eight feet above the height of the muzzie, while, with the 20 calibre new rife and smokeless powder, the bullet does not rise over about the bullet does not rise over about three feet. The advantage of this im-provement is evident, for with the new rifle a very considerable error in estimating the range will not injure the accuracy of the fire.

"The penetration in solid oak for a 6 calibre rifle at short range—say about three yards—s four or five inches; with the new rifle and German-silver jacket and bullet, it was found to be seven or eight inches, and with the new rifle and nickle-kteel jacket and bullet it is as high as twenty-four inches.

"This new rifle is at present used only as an experiment, but it will in the near future be issued to all troops. The first regiment to be supplied with the same will be the Second Infantry at Omaha,

"The Board on Magazine Arms, which was appointed two years ago, tried all rifles in use in foreign countries, and also a great many American rifles. They were put through very severe tests of all sorts and finally the Krag-Joergensen pattern was adopted, with a number of

LOOKING AFTER A SUITABLE LOCA-TION FOR A PARK IN FULTON.

The Committee on Grounds and Buildings Visit that Portion of the City_The City Treasurer's Office.

For years the residents of Fulton have been desirous of securing a park for that section of the city, but until recently they have vainly applied to the city authorities for such an improvement. At one of the last meetings of the Common Council a resolution was introduced asking the Committee on Grounds and Buildings to look into the advisability of establishing a public park beyond Chimborazo and Marshall Parks.

In compliance with that resolution the Committee on Grounds and Buildings met yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the corner of Louisiana street and Williamsburg avenue to view the grounds and select, if possible, a suitable gite. The following members of the committee following members of the committee were present: Chairman Taylor and Messrs. Noble, Tanner, Mounteastle, Curtis, and Epps. Col. Cutshaw, the City Engineer, was on hand, and so were Councilman Fred H. Garber, the father of the resolution, Mr. R. B. Chaffin, and many other interested parties.

many other interested parties.

The committee visited at once a beautiful hill in Henrico county, just below the city, known as Mt. Erin, the property of Mr. William Phillips. It forms part of old Fulton Hill, where Gen. Fulton resided at the time of the Revolution. Mr. Chaffin, the agent of this property, call ed attention to the fine view that could be obtained from there, and finally offer-ed the committee two tracts of land of six and thirteen acres respectively.

From there the committee went across the roadway to the attractive country sent of Mr. F. N. Garber, which also forms a continuation of Fulton Hill, and the area which Mr. Garber is willing to sell the city is located on the slope of the hill and contains fourteen acres the hill and contains fourteen acres.

Limekiin Hill, which fronts on Fulton creek, was next visited and its merits were thoroughly inspected. A little hill side below, near the river, where the car track leaves Lester street to go around the loop, known as Riverside, was also visited. The committee finally returned to the

The committee finally returned to the city without taking any action in the matter, which will be further considered at the next regular meeting.

Colonel Tanner and Mr. Taylor, two of the three candidates for Mayor, made the trip in the former's buggy, and wherever an opportunity offered fixelf either of them greeted his friends right before the eyes of the other. When, finally, some by-stander asked the question, "Where is Dickerson?" Colonel Tannel quickly replied, "He is not in it."

Dr. Needham's subject was "The Day of Atonement." Our Lord, when on earth, said that Moses wrote of him. He believed Moses was inspired to do this. He referred during his ministry to what Moses said in the law regarding him. Moses said in the law regarding him. All references then were to the Old Testament. We can find the gospel beaming from every page of it. The day of atonement was the all-important day of the Jewish year. It was the observed of all days. It had special reference to sin. The priest took the bloed of a bullock within the vall, in order to atone for the sins

answer, and relate as near as I can story;

"After a long and tedlous, tiresome march in pursuit of the enemy, Captain A., then in command of a company of your old regiment of infantry, C. S. A., halted on Roads' Hill, in the Valley of Virginia, one evening in March, and went into camp. Shortly afterwards there came up a great thunder storm, accomcame up a great thunder storm, accompanied by a heavy wind and blinding hall storm. As the storm progressed a shower of ripe cherries mixed with cat fish, about four to six inches, fell from the clouds with the hall and the weary, hungry men of his and other companies, as well as he and vourself exthered the

He sketched briefly the differences in the social standing and the varied conditions of men in earthly affairs, while in the spiritual world all are on a level. Poor, lost sinners is the condition in which Christ finds the world. This point he illustrated by a descrip-tion of a great meeting he attended in London, where there were workmen, shopmen, beggars, and noblemen, with their servants, all in strong contrast as to position in this life, but all on a large of the servants.

Says, what the Psalms say? He has blotted out all our transgressions. The Bible is full of these sayings, "My sin is blotted out." God has made provision in the death of his son by which his bood washes away our sin, even as the waves of the sea-shore wash away imprints on the sand. "The blood of Jesus Christ cleanseth fromm all sin."

Dr. Needham related an incident of his preaching in the North. He was preaching one Sunday in a little village, and tried that day to make the message par-
